- Researching your potential donor
- Writing the inquiry letter (or, letter of intent) and exercise

Lilya Wagner is director of Philanthropic Service for Institutions, a consulting office for faith-based institutions. From 2005-2008, Lilya was vice president for Philanthropy at Counterpart International in Washington, D.C., an international development organization that provides a variety of services and projects in many countries. Prior to joining Counterpart, Lilya completed 14 years of association with the Center on Philanthropy at Indiana University (now the Lilly Family School of Philanthropy), serving as associate director for public service and director of the Women's Philanthropy Institute. There, she developed and managed projects and programs, such as the Philanthropic Ambassadors and the Hispanic Stewardship Development Partnership. Lilya has done training, speaking and consulting in more than 60 countries. Her published writings include articles and book chapters on philanthropy, fundraising and the nonprofit sector, along with books and numerous articles on a variety of general interest and professional topics. Some of her books include: Careers in Fundraising, Leading Up: Transformational Leadership for Fundraisers, and Women War Correspondents of World War II. A recently released volume on the effects of culture, traditions, nationalities, and religion on generosity and philanthropy, Diversity and Philanthropy: Expanding the Circle of Giving, was published by Praeger Publishers. This book reflects Lilya’s own background as a refugee and immigrant, her extensive global work through the Lilly Family School of Philanthropy as well as other organizations that have engaged her as a consultant or trainer, and her interest in cultural differences and how these enrich civil society.
