Largest Asian American Business Opportunity Conference in the Country held by USPAACC-EF in Washington, DC

CelebrAsian ‘08 serves as forum to help Asian American suppliers with sustainable tools to become more competitive in today’s marketplace.

In its continuing effort to address the challenges small and minority businesses face in an increasingly seamless global marketplace, the US Pan Asian American Chamber of Commerce Education Foundation (USPAACC-EF) held its 23rd Anniversary CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ‘08 on May 27-29, at the Hilton Washington hotel in Washington, DC. This year’s theme was “Business Beyond Boundaries: Here & Abroad.”

PepsiCo Chairman and CEO Indra Nooyi who served as the Conference Chair, U.S. Labor Secretary Elaine Chao, U.S. Commerce Secretary Carlos Gutierrez, U.S. Homeland Security Under Secretary for Management (Procurement) Elaine Duke, and ASIMCO Technologies Chairman and CEO Jack Perkowski, were among the featured speakers.

At a private event in the White House and at the Excellence Awards Gala Dinner, CEOs from USPAACC-EF’s “50 Fast-Growing Asian American Businesses” who, together, generated $4.9 billion in revenues in 2007, came to Washington, DC for the unveiling and awards ceremonies.

In all, 65 Fortune corporations and 20 Federal government agencies participated as buying organizations at the Conference. Over 700 participated in the three-day Conference.

CelebrAsian—the largest of its kind in the United States—connects hundreds of top-caliber Asian American suppliers and small business owners annually with buyers from Fortune corporations, the Federal government, and the small/minority business community, through pre-scheduled one-on-one business meetings.

President’s Message

Dear Friends,

Thank you for helping us score another home run with our 23rd Anniversary CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ’08—the largest annual national Asian American business conference in the United States!

At our annual flagship event held on May 27 – 29, 2008 in our nation’s capital, we successfully connected innovative suppliers and serious buyers from Fortune corporations and the Federal government. We also celebrated the achievements of top-caliber Asian American businesses and forged ahead with plans for a promising future, guided by our Conference theme “Business Beyond Boundaries: Here and Abroad.” Our special programs highlighted new ways to help businesses increase revenue, productivity, value, as well as enhance and expand innovation.

We were fortunate to have had renowned and distinguished speakers address our Conference, including U.S. Labor Secretary Elaine L. Chao, PepsiCo Chairman and CEO Indra Nooyi, who also served as our Conference Chair, U.S. Department of Homeland Security’s Deputy Under Secretary for Management Elaine Duke, and ASIMCO Chairman and CEO Jack Perkowski, who flew in from Beijing, China to be with us.

Your strong support and participation no doubt brought invaluable benefits to our national Conference. Together we offered golden opportunities and sustainable tools that our participants can leverage to accelerate the pace of their business growth.

Next year, save the date and join us once again at our 24th Anniversary Conference in Brooklyn, New York on May 20-22, 2009, where we will present proven strategies and resources to help you continue shaping your future—in better ways—to achieve success. Let’s make this another “win-win” situation for all our participants! Your continuing involvement is essential for a mutually successful future.

In the meantime, we have other exciting programs and events lined up and designed especially for you for the rest of the year, so I hope we see each other there.

Let’s do business and prosper!

Susan Au Allen
National President & CEO

CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ‘09 Heads to the Big Apple on May 20-22, 2009

Save the Date: The Big Apple will be the next venue of the largest annual national Asian American business opportunity conference in the United States—USPAACC-EF’s 24th Anniversary CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ‘09. It will be held on May 20-22 at the New York Marriott at the Brooklyn Bridge in Brooklyn, New York.

CelebrAsian ‘09 will bring together Asian American suppliers and buyers from Fortune Corporations and the Federal government—for three days, and under one roof. The national conference will help businesses grow through one-on-one prescheduled meetings, valuable connections, prized information, partnership and teamwork—strategic relationships that could lead to real, business opportunities. Truly a unique results-oriented experience that takes businesses to the next level!

USPAACC-EF Southwest Chapter Holds 7th Annual Asian Business EXPO in Texas

USPAACC-EF Southwest, led by Chapter President Grace McDermott, presented another sold-out event during the 7th Annual Asian Business EXPO on August 13, 2008 in Arlington, Texas.

Participating corporations reported that this year’s EXPO provided them with new opportunities for their supply chain development. The session “Meet the Buyers - One on One” was also successful on both sides—Corporate buyers and Asian American suppliers. The Women Business Zone featured “Woman Executives Coaches” from Burlington Northern Santa Fe Rail Road and The Finance Director of the City of the Colony, Texas.

At the Awards Luncheon, the keynotes were given by Doug Hawthorne, CEO of Texas Health Resources, the largest healthcare provider in Texas and Eric Fox, Vice President, Legislative and Government, Lockheed Martin.

Over 700 attendees attended the day’s event. We want to thank the Asian business community in the Southwest region for their support and to all of our corporate sponsors who came out in full force!
USPAACC-EF reported that over $4.9 billion in sales were generated by 50 Asian American businesses in 2007. The sales were the cumulative revenue of USPAACC-EF’s “50 Fastest-Growing Asian American Businesses,” officially revealed during the 23rd Anniversary CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ’08, on May 27-29 at the Hilton Washington hotel in Washington, DC. PepsiCo Chairman and CEO Indra Nooyi, who also served as the Conference Chair, and U.S. Labor Secretary Elaine Chao, helped in the presentation of the Top 10 fastest-growing businesses during the Excellence Awards Gala Dinner at the Hilton Washington on May 28. A special presentation of the 50 fastest-growing Asian American businesses also took place at The White House earlier that day with U.S. Commerce Secretary Carlos Gutierrez.

“The continued robust growth of Asian American-owned businesses—even during challenging economic times—is testament to the enduring quality of Asian Americans who, through innovation, hard work and ingenuity, remain at the forefront as engines of growth in our national economy,” said USPAACC-EF National President & CEO Susan Au Allen.

To qualify for the ranking, companies must be owned by one or more Asian Americans (at least 51% ownership). Based on percentage revenue growth over three years, pre-selection was determined through direct applications, nominations and third-party lists. All finalists were independently verified by BDO Seidman, LLP, an accounting and consulting firm with 35 offices and more than 300 independent alliance locations nationwide.

Contractors Meeting on Certification Held by USPAACC-EF and the Small Business Transportation Resource Center in California

USPAACC-EF and the Small Business Transportation Resource Center Southwest Region (SBTRC-SW) it operates, hosted a contractors meeting on certification at the Home Depot PRO in Colma, California on August 19. Representatives from the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency (MUNI) and the San Mateo County Transit District (SamTrans) met with businesses to about how to work with their organizations.

SBTRC-SW serves the southwest region of the U.S. (California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Hawaii) to reach out to transportation-related small businesses (owned by African, Hispanic, and Asian Americans, women, veterans, disabled veterans, and businesses located in the HUBZones) in the region. It helps small businesses network with prime contractors and subcontractors and also serves as an information center for access to business training, technical assistance, marketing assistance, and information related to transportation business opportunities to small and disadvantaged businesses. Through the Short Term Lending Program (STLP) of participating banks and other lending institutions, SBTRC-SW also provides financial assistance information to the businesses in the region.
USPAACC-EF and Wells Fargo Present Three Asian American-Owned Small Businesses with Asian Business Leadership Awards

Winners announced at CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ‘08

USPAACC-EF and Wells Fargo once more celebrated the continued success of Asian American business owners at a special luncheon held on May 28 during CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference ’08 in Washington, DC.

Three Asian American businesses were honored with the 5th Annual USPAACC-EF/Wells Fargo Asian Business Leadership Award. Each winner received a $5,000 cash prize.

The awardees were selected from a nationwide pool of applicants and evaluated based on their innovation, financial success, and community service.

This year’s winners are Beverly Hills, California-based Jimmy Au’s For Men 5’8” and Under, Inc. – James Y.C. Au; Swanton, Ohio-based Grand Aire, Inc. – Tehmeena and Zachary Cheema; and Los Angeles, California-based teamCFO, Inc. – Laura Yamanaka and Carrie Tsang-Hidding.

“The dedication, innovation and success demonstrated by these business owners is truly inspiring,” said Iris Chan, head of Commercial Banking at Wells Fargo and national spokesperson for Wells Fargo’s Asian Business Services. “USPAACC-EF is honored, with Wells Fargo, to recognize these outstanding Asian business owners, as they truly reflect the strength and diversity within the Asian-owned business segment,” said Susan Au Allen, national president and CEO of USPAACC -EF. “Asian-owned businesses continue to prosper across the country, and we’re excited and honored to continue the tradition of recognizing and celebrating their tremendous achievements.”

Senator Obama Campaigns in Ohio. Officials of Grand Aire, the Swanton, Ohio-based air charter management company and recipient of the 2008 USPAACC-EF/Wells Fargo Asian Business Leadership Award, hosted Democratic Presidential candidate and Illinois Senator Barack Obama when his plane landed in Ohio in late August. It was the first stop for Senator Obama immediately following his acceptance speech at the Democratic National Convention in Denver. Later that day, USPAACC-EF visited Computech Corporation, one of the active Asian American high-tech companies in Bingham Farms, Michigan. They were welcomed by Ram Kancharla, President and CEO, and Gregory Cheesewright, President of Global Operations. Computech committed to put more time and effort in facilitating USPAACC-EF's programs and connecting Asian American businesses with Corporate America in the Midwest region.

Strategic summits, best practices workshops, and networking sessions.

“USPAACC Foundation has been at the forefront of educating, training and nurturing Asian American suppliers and small business owners since 1984, and CelebrAsian, our flagship event, is designed to help participants stay informed on procurement trends, best practices, contract opportunities, and other strategic tools necessary for sustained growth and competitive in today’s challenging global marketplace,” said USPAACC-EF National President & CEO Susan Au Allen.

The spotlight was also placed on specific successes and achievements of Asian American businesses, through the USPAACC-EF/Wells Fargo Asian Business Leadership Awards and the Business Leaders and Scholarship Awards Luncheon; and the International CEO Forum that featured Jack Perkowski, ASIMCO Technologies Chairman & CEO and best-selling author of “Managing the Dragon: How I’m Building a Billion-Dollar Business in China,” who shared his experiences in building a billion-dollar empire in China.

This year’s Program Co-Chairs were Gladys Lopez, Supplier Diversity Manager of American Express, and Aziz Ahmad, CEO of UTC Associates.

The Conference Program also included: China Trade Mission Success Stories, Summit of Supply Diversity Directors/Managers & Buyers, Suppliers Summit, Selling to the Federal Government, Guanxi* Suppliers Opportunity Trade Fair and One-on-One Meetings (“Guanxi is a commonly used business term meaning “connections” or “relationship”), the presentation of the 50 Fastest-Growing Asian American Businesses, Excellence Awards Reception and Dinner, Business Leaders and Scholarship Luncheon, and other programs designed for Asian American businesses and their partners in Corporate America, in the federal, state and local government, and in the small and minority business community.

The USPAACC-EF team also had dinner with several Asian American entrepreneurs, including Madhava Reddy and James Joseph of HTC, Dominic Pangborn, artist and CEO of Pangborn Design, and Jenny Jiang, President of Oakland Living Corporation.
