2008: A Year of Accomplishments, Challenges and Optimism

USPAACC-EF looks to the future with a focus on viable goals and substantial growth opportunities for Asian American suppliers and their business partners in Corporate America and the Federal Government

As the nation yearns for a quick turnaround from the economic doldrums to robust business activity, the US Pan Asian American Chamber of Commerce Education Foundation (USPAACC-EF) is ending the year on a positive note—with far-reaching accomplishments to help boost business growth among its constituents.

In January, USPAACC-EF opened its Regional Office in San Francisco, the Small Business Transportation Resource Center—Southwest Region (SBTRC-SW), to help prepare small businesses in Arizona, California, Hawaii, Nevada, and Utah, so that they would have an equal opportunity to participate in contracts funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT) at the local, state and federal levels.

In February, USPAACC-EF traveled across the Pacific Ocean and led the China Trade Mission—composed of a delegation of U.S.-based businesses—to Beijing, Dalian, and Shanghai, to help solidify relationships between suppliers and corporations, as well as to explore business opportunities.

In May, PepsiCo Chairman and CEO Indra Nooyi chaired the USPAACC-EF annual national flagship event CelebrAsian Business Opportunity Conference '08 in Washington, DC. The three-day conference not only gave Asian American suppliers a forum to learn, network, and share solutions, but also celebrated USPAACC-EF's "50 Fastest-Growing Asian American Businesses" whose collective revenue exceeded $4.9 billion in 2007. In partnership with Wells Fargo, USPAACC-EF also presented the Asian Business Leadership Award to three businesses each with $5,000 cash and a trophy; and through private and corporate sponsors, USPAACC-EF helped invest in the community's future leaders through its college scholarship program.

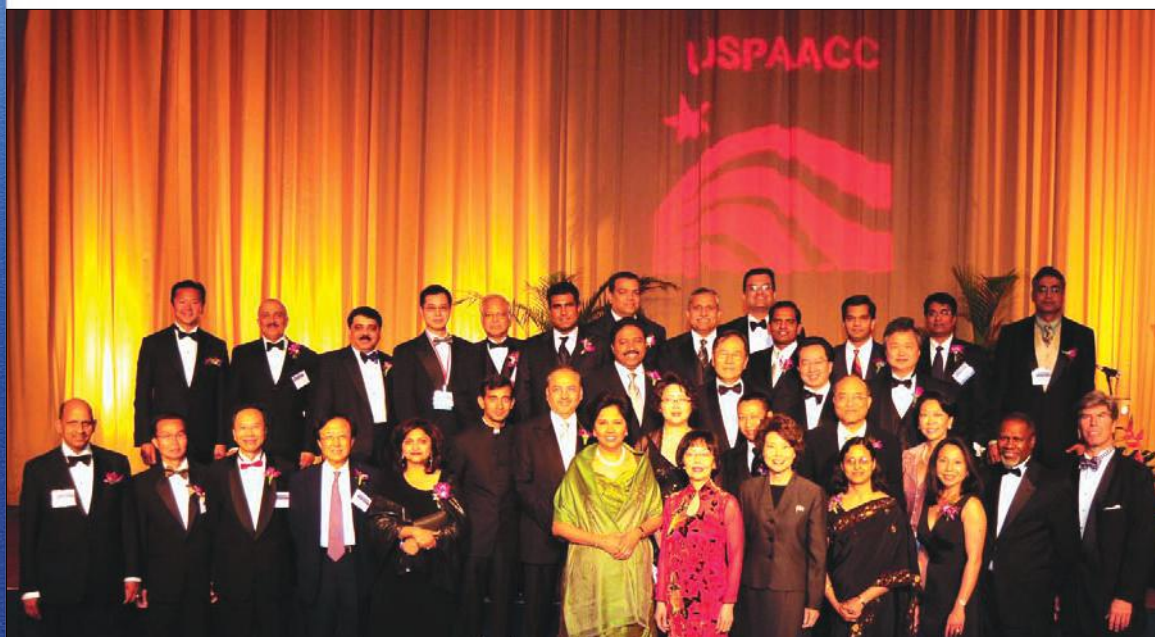

Throughout the year, USPAACC-EF held a total of 15 Procurement Connections nation-

President's Message

Dear Friends,

2008 is nearly over—and what a landmark year it has been for us at USPAACC-EF!

Despite a rough economic landscape, we have made great strides in connecting a record number of Asian American suppliers with buyers from Corporate America and the Federal government. We held 15 Procurement Connections nationwide and successfully hosted our flagship national conference, CelebrAsian '08, in Washington, DC. We celebrated the success of Asian American business through our "50 Fastest-Growing Asian American Businesses" and the "USPAACC-EF/Wells Fargo Asian American Business Leadership Awards." We began to operate one of the U.S. Department of Transportation's 9 regional Small Business Transportation Centers in San Francisco. Our China Trade Mission explored and completed opportunities for U.S.-based corporations and small businesses. We opened our regional office in San Francisco, and we have strengthened our advocacy efforts in our nation's capital in preparation for the incoming Obama Administration, through two private meetings with the President-Elect's Transition Team. These accomplishments represent our continuing effort to provide quality access, by creating a broad spectrum of sustainable programs.

While it is that time of year when we reflect on our past efforts, it is also the time to resolve to do even better in the coming year. The tough marketplace must be viewed as a challenge, not a setback. At the same time, this crisis will provide us with opportunities—where good ideas emerge to create new or better products and services. I am confident that our entrepreneurs and small business owners will be able to ride this downturn through innovation, fresh ideas and creative solutions.

We thank all those who have supported us this year, especially in this road to profound change and increasing complexity—when business relationships are more important than ever. We are pleased to have once again delivered what you, our valued members, need and ask for. And with steadfast commitment, we will continue to provide more solutions and bigger opportunities to help to position your business for a robust growth in the coming year.

Best wishes to all for a happy and more prosperous 2009!

Susan Au Allen

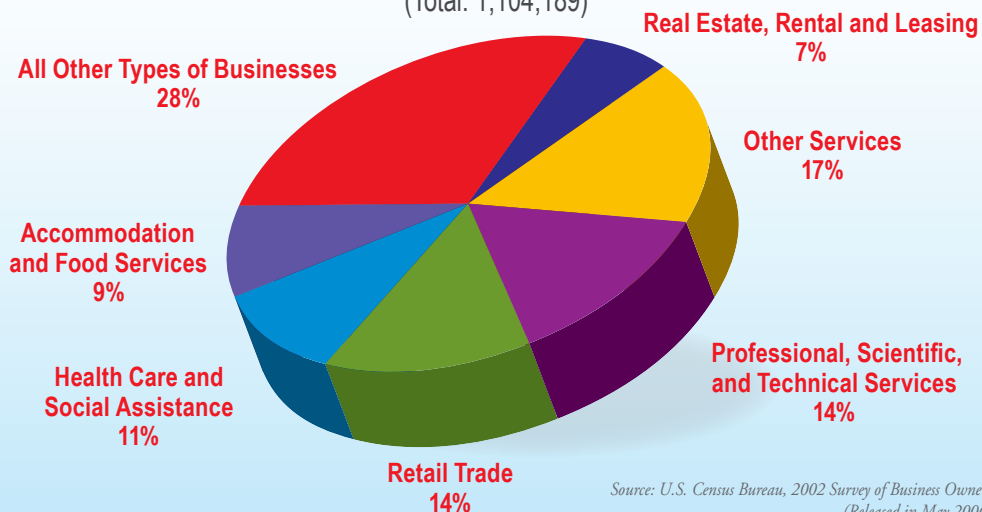

National President & CEO

Speaking Engagements: USPAACC-EF National President & CEO Delivers Keynote Address at Nationwide Insurance Regional Leadership Conference, Other Forums

USPAACC-EF National President & CEO Susan Au Allen delivered the keynote address at a gathering of regional leadership teams of Nationwide Insurance on November 12 in Houston, Texas. Allen discussed opportunities that are available in the growing Asian American market—both in insurance and financial services—and in recruiting dedicated, talented and well-connected Asian American employees.

Allen also presented a historical perspective of the growth of the Asian American community, and shared information about their multi-billion dollar purchasing power and the psychographics of the 6 largest Asian American groups in the country—all to help to increase understanding and to facilitate better communication that translates into improved sales.

Earlier this year, Allen spoke at a town-hall meeting during the National Women's Business Council (NWBC) in Columbus Ohio in March. Over 100 women business owners discussed their priorities, challenges and concerns, to help the Council formulate future policy recommendations.

In April, she spoke at the Executive Networking Conference, attended by over 500 minority businesses, in Pinhurst, North Carolina.

In November, she spoke on government contracting and federal certification as a member of NWBC to over 200 women business owners in San Francisco. She explained the importance of certification as a tool for small/minority businesses who want to do business with the federal government. This is particularly crucial in view of the $700 billion bailout funds the federal government has assigned to the financial institution and the $150 billion that President-elect Obama has vowed to spend on the nation's infrastructure. ●

USPAACC-EF, National Urban League, and U.S. Hispanic Chamber of Commerce Partner for U.S. Department of Labor Opportunity Conference

For the 7th year, USPAACC-EF was one of the three national partners of the U.S. Department of Labor's Opportunity Conference. Held on October 23 in Orlando, Florida, the other national partners included the National Urban League and U.S. Hispanic Chamber of Commerce. The conference featured government procurement opportunities and corporate supplier diversity programs. USPAACC-EF National President & CEO Susan Au Allen and Board Member of the USPAACC-SE Regional Chapter Naheed Syed were the featured speakers at the business sessions. ●

Contracting EXPO held in San Francisco

Wells Fargo and Verizon sponsored a Business Expo for Asian American and minority-owned businesses on September 16 in San Francisco. Over a dozen corporations including PG&E, Chevron, AT&T, Blue Shield of California, Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority, MetLife, U.S. Postal Service, U.S. Small Business Administration, California Public Utilities Commission, Sugar Bowl Bakery, JW Continental, Northbound, and AsianWeek publication attended the event, with a high number of Asian American business enterprises to match. ●

USPAACC-EF Presidential Retreat Held in Chicago

The traditional annual USPAACC-EF Presidential Retreat was held on December 10-11 in Chicago, Illinois. All six USPAACC-EF Regional Chapter Presidents joined the National President and reviewed the events, lessons learned and best practices of the past year and charted the organization's course for the coming year.

USPAACC-EF and SBTRC-SW Hold Series of Seminars and Matchmaking Events in California

In an effort to explore federal business opportunities, USPAACC-EF and the Small Business Transportation Resource Center - Southwest Chapter (SBTRC-SW) held a series of seminars and matchmaking events in California.

In August, a town-hall meeting was held in San Francisco and featured California State Assemblywoman and Majority Whip (D-San Francisco) Fiona Ma as the keynote speaker. SBTRC-SW also held a successful contractor-supplier meeting on minority, small disadvantaged, and woman business event at the Home Depot PRO in Colma, California. Representatives from the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency (MUNI) and the San Mateo County Transit District (SamTrans) talked about how to bid for and obtain contract opportunity information from MUNI and SamTrans.

In October, SBTRC-SW held a matchmaking seminar "I'm Certified, Now What?" with SCORE "Counselors to America's Small Business," a resource partner of the U.S. Small Business Administration. Two distinct groups of businesses attended: developmental-stage businesses and mature companies that have already been in operation for years, but have never been able to get business based on their certification status. ●

Matchmaking and Certification Conference held at Disney Entrepreneur Center in Orlando

The Disney Entrepreneur Center in Orlando, Florida was the site of USPAACC-EF's Southeast Region's certification and matchmaking conference for minority business owners, held on October 22. Participating corporations and agencies included U.S. Postal Service, Florida Minority Supplier Development Council (FMSDC), U.S. Air Force, The Coca-Cola Company and Coca-Cola Enterprises. USPAACC-EF's President and CEO Susan Au Allen gave the keynote address and explained the reasons for certification for minority businesses. ● wide—in cities including Los Angeles, New York, Atlanta, Arlington (Texas), Orlando, San Francisco, San Gabriel, San Diego, Virginia, and Washington, DC—in its continuing effort to connect suppliers to buyers, strengthen relationships, provide quality access, and to spur business growth. ●

USPAACC-EF National President & CEO Meets with Obama Transition Team

The USPAACC-EF team, led by National President & CEO Susan Au Allen, met with President-Elect Obama's Transition Team in Washington, DC in mid-December, to discuss the challenges and priorities of Asian American suppliers and small/medium business owners, as well as policies and practices the U.S. Departments of Treasury, Commerce, Labor, and the U.S. Small Business Administration should adopt to open opportunities to small/minority and Asian American businesses.

"I applaud and welcome the incoming administration's commitment to put in place a particularly aggressive fiscal strategy that will hopefully gain traction to help stabilize the economy and to ensure the continued growth of small and minority businesses," said Allen after the meeting. Through the organization's National Headquarters in Washington, DC and its 6 Regional Chapters nationwide, Allen added that USPAACC-EF will continue to strongly advocate for opportunities to continue the economic growth of its constituents. ●

East Meets West: Preparations Underway for China Trade Mission '09

USPAACC-EF's China Trade Mission '09 preparations are underway. Based on the successes achieved by the 2008 delegates, expectations are high for the 2009 China Trade Mission to achieve more in terms of connecting small business suppliers to major U.S. corporations doing business in China, and Chinese manufacturers who buy from and sell to the West.

PepsiCo, Heat & Control, and Tech Long Packing are three of the several companies that are involved in this Trade Mission. Other companies include MSL Express, Vision-X Global, AECSOFT USA, and Trade Union, Inc., among others. Delegates will leave the U.S. on February 20 for Nanjing, Shanghai, and Guangzhou, and will return to the U.S. on March 1. For more information, visit www.uspaacc.com ●

E-PORTAL: WHERE THE OPPORTUNITIES ARE

With the prevailing economic conditions casting a pall over the entire marketplace, USPAACC-EF sees a silver lining in other industries—proof-positive that the recession remains to be sector-specific, and that there are areas that have a bright outlook and continue to register growth (e.g. health care, education, and "green" or environment/energy-related industries).

We encourage our members to regularly log on and check the USPAACC-EF E-Portal to find where these growth areas are and to help them assess trends that may be helpful for their business in the coming year. For more information, log on: www.uspaacc.com/eportal ●
